Don't you think you have put off long enough having out those old teeth preparatory to having new ones made? The pleasant weather is here, and so are we with lots of pure, fresh gas, ready at any time you may call.

Why make a great fuss over having a few teeth out? You will be surprised to find what an easy job the gas makes of it in our hands. Our experience is long in years and great in the number of those who have safely taken it under our administration.

Iron Fences

THE COLLINSON FENCE

The above cut represents one of the very best fences in the market. It is the result of years of practical experience. It recommends itself, and is especially adapted for front or street fences on account of its great strength. It is made of heavy two inch T Steel Posts, driven from three to four feet in the ground, according to the nature of the soil. There is a Solid Iron Bar running through each post from end to end of each section, and parallel to the wires, thus locking the whole together. Although it does not have a heavy appearance, it will stand any amount of strain without becoming out of shape.

Also all other styles of Wire and Wrought Iron Fences, Iron Specialties, etc.

The Most Wonderful and Effectual Cure of the Age

For Loose Stair Carpets. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure

THIS IS WHERE WALKER'S GRIP HOLDS GOOD

WALKER'S PATENT GRIP is a sure CURE for holes in carpets caused by the same tearing on the screws or nails meant to hold them.

Walker's Grip holds the carpet securely in the angle made by the step and riser. It is impossible for the carpet to move on the screw or nail that holds the grip, thereby preventing stretching or tearing of the carpet.

Anybody can put down a stair carpet with Walker's Grip; no tacks are required.

Walker's Grips and stair rods are acknowledged by all carpet dealers to be the only PRACTICAL stair carpet fastener in the market.

PREFACE.

In presenting this, the sixty-first volume of the City Directory of Newark, we wish to say something concerning it to its patrons, its friends, and the public, who constantly turn to it for information on the many subjects it embraces. How varied and complete are the topics covered few stop to consider. Of names alone there are 772 pages, containing 100 names each, making in round numbers 77,000, against 714 pages in the 1894 Directory with 70,000 names. This does not take into account the Harrison and Kearny Department of 170 pages with 7,000 names. It will be seen by these figures that the city's growth is normal, and that if we estimate three and one-half individuals for each name in the Directory the population of the city is 269,500, which doubtless is quite as near the actual figure as is that of the late census, which places the population at 215,472.

The appendix one of the most valuable features of the City Directory covers a wide field of information. It includes the banks, insurance companies and important corporations and trust companies, as well as the churches, societies, public officials, etc. Special attention is called to the very complete list of building and loan associations, together with their officers, which is given this year. This has been compiled at considerable expense, and will be found to be reliable.

A new feature of this issue is the arrangement of advertisements under alphabetically classified headings. Thus the various businesses are brought together to the advantage of all. That the plan has met with popular approval is established by the fact that it consists of upwards of one hundred pages, which is an emphatic endorsement.

The City Directory should be a reflex of the city in such form that a student or even a casual observer could gather from it a fair idea of its area, population, nationality, business, and general characteristics. Its area by the map, its population and nationalities by the names, and its business by the advertisements. The latter is the true index of the city and its chief characteristics. The business men make the city, and the amount of enterprise and vim they inject into its life makes it humorous or otherwise. With the greatest possible reluctance we are forced to admit that in this matter the City Directory fails to do its full work. Indeed, of all the Directories with which we exchange, including the cities of every section of the country, our alone makes so poor a showing. We are at loss to understand why this is so. Why should an industry be represented in the Directory by only four advertisers, when our city ranks sixth in the country in this particular line? Why should two firms be the only advertisers in a trade in which Newark is said to lead all others in this country? That, too, when business men in the same line in a neighboring city take eighteen pages of their city directory to make their announcements? These are not isolated cases, for there are distinct lines of manufacture in this city that have not a single advertisement in our pages. Does our Directory then as it goes from city to city and state to state, carry with it the impression that it should of Newark's importance, varied industries, and wealth? This is a serious reflection upon the foresight and business sagacity of our merchants and manufacturers, and one that should not be suffered to exist. It is just as necessary that the City Directory should properly reflect the true status of the city and should make not only a creditable showing of the wealth, rank and enterprise of its people, as it is that a merchant should have a proper display in his show window or that a state or nation should be adequately represented at a great industrial exhibition such as has just closed in Chicago or will soon open in Atlanta or later at Paris.

Every care possible has been taken to have this issue of the Directory free from errors, but so long as the human family are fallible, and the time for collating and printing the information that goes to make up the Directory is so short, no doubt some names will escape our vigilant watchfulness and are erroneously printed, to the frequent annoyance of our patrons. An endless chapter could be written explaining how these occur, and it is a greater wonder that so few are to be found, than that any occur, but we refrain, believing that we have kept the errors down to the minimum, and that our patrons will be patient when any are found.

"BAR-LOCK"

The Modern Writing Machine

has its writing constantly in view, and thus anticipates, in at least one particular, the typewriter of the future.

It does more. It AUTOMATICALLY reverses its ribbon feed, so that the operator need give no heed whatever to the ribbon until it is entirely worn out, and then it can be replaced in an instant.

Its alignment is permanent.

Its type can be thoroughly cleaned within a few seconds.

It is unequalled as a manifolder.

If you should ever give a BAR-LOCK typewriter a fair trial, you would find it a hardship to go back to the old style machines of the day, for you will have become satisfied, as many others have, that "BAR-LOCK," THE MODERN WRITING MACHINE, DOES THE BEST WORK, WITH THE LEAST EFFORT, IN THE SHORTEST TIME.

Columbian Typewriter Mfg. Co.

"BAR-LOCK"

The Modern Writing Machine

Does most of the work, in writing Automatically, and yields in time thus saved, additional work.

It acts as if it studied the convenience of the operator at every turn, and thereby lightens his labor and renders him capable of doing more.

It has a knack of keeping well, and is always ready at critical and other times.

These are some of the reasons why it is so different from all other writing machines.

The catalogue tells you more about it. FREE.
